REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art does not teach or suggest an apparatus for fixing a power circuit breaker in a withdrawable-part rack including means for moving the breaker relative to the rack; at least one locking device associated with the rack and movable thereon; a control connected to the locking device so as to be moved between latched and unlatched positions and interacting with the means for moving the breaker; and a release device movable by movement of the breaker from at least one of a blocked position for the control rod to a released position for the control rod and from a released position to a blocked position with the locking device moving to the unlatched position when the breaker is inserted and withdrawn from the rack and the control rod being held in the blocked position by the release device , such that, when the breaker is inserted in the rack, the released position for the control rod for triggering the movement of the locking device to the latched position is assumed by the release device only shortly before the inserted position of the breaker.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
